**Passage for the Month****

God's Security

As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the Lord is round about his people from henceforth even for ever."—

Psalm 125:2.

THE CHANGES of society may well illustrate the immutability of God. In the days of David, Jerusalem was looked upon as an impregnable fortress. It is surrounded by a natural rampart of hills; and appears to lie in the centre of an amphitheatre raised purposely for its defence. By the ancient Jew it was considered to be an impregnable citadel. How changed now are the manners of war! A small troop could easily take the city, and it must indeed be a strong army that would be able to garrison it in its present condition. Yet whilst Jerusalem is changed, and the figure has become inappropriate, Jerusalem's God remains, for with him is "no variableness, neither shadow of turning." We must consider the text, not as we should understand it in our day, but as we should have understood it in David's time. David looked upon the city of Jerusalem, and he thought within himself, "No army can ever be able to surprise this city, and however numerous may be the invading hosts, my people will always be able to hold their own in the midst of a city so firmly fortified both by nature and by art." In his time, indeed, and in the time of his son Solomon, I suppose it would have been utterly impossible for any enemy, possessed only of the tactics of ancient warfare, to have scaled those mighty ramparts of earth which God had piled about the city. And therefore, when David said in his day, "As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the Lord is round about his people;" he meant this—"As Jerusalem is fortified by the mountains, so are God's people castled in the covenant, fortified in the Omnipotence of God, and therefore they are impregnable secure. We shall thus understand the text, and endeavour to work out the great thought of the security of God's people in the arms of Jehovah their Lord.

As we start the year 2012, be aware that everything about you is fortified. Regardless of the predictions of world economist, scientist, doctors, lawyers and leaders, have the mind that, as the mountains are around Jerusalem, so the Lord is about you. God has fortified you and he has castled you in His covenant. Your blessings will not cease, your plans will not fail, your destiny will not be aborted, your protection by the Lord will not cease. You will be secured, your dreams will come true and your vision s will not tarry. God bless you and have a blessed new year. Amen.
